Dear Andrew

I greatly appreciated your being able to attend the presentation of prizes and certificates to the four recipients at Takapuna Grammar School last week. You are an extremely busy man and I know how difficult it is for you to accept all the invitations you receive. Your presence added appreciably to the occasion and made it a memorable experience for the winners.

This was the first time four contestants from the one school had won an award, which is truly an outstanding achievement for both the school and the students. I was honoured that you could be there to acknowledge such a unique occasion.

Perhaps next year I may see you there again when I present the first prize, of an all expenses paid trip to Ireland, to another Takapuna Grammar pupil.
